

Selecting a Qualified Vendor

ProSource is the right choice for cleaning your data center

The Right Company

We are the right choice for your mission critical cleaning needs because ProSource specializes in only cleaning critical facilities. As an ADCCP certified vendor, ProSource has provided nationwide service to data centers since 1994 with proven processes that safely and effectively clean your critical facilities.

The Right People

Our specially trained critical facility staff utilize best-in-class equipment, chemicals, and processes to safely and effectively clean your critical environment. Our company employed technicians are trained so you can trust they understand your critical environment.

The Right Equipment

ProSource utilizes equipment that exceeds standards for cleaning data centers. Our vacuums offer shielded motor housing to prevent EMI (electromagnetic interference) when used around your servers. They also provide ULPA filtration as used in clean room environments as an added protection that increases the effectiveness of our cleaning services.

The Right Services

ProSource provides specialized cleaning services and related products to data center facilities to help prevent the high cost of equipment related business interruptions caused by contamination build-up inside data centers. The cost of downtime is significant and should be prevented. Our solution has a minimal investment with a high return of cost avoidance, and is an industry recommended best practice.
